The appropriate extension fee under 37 CFR 1.17(a) is calculated from: (1) the expiration date of the shortened statutory period for reply originally set in the final Office action; or (2) as set forth in (b) above, if checked. Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of the final rejection, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Continuation of 3. NOTE: The amendments to independent claims 1,7,15 require further consideration, but at first glance, appear to overcome the cited prior art of record.

Continuation of 11. NOTE: As to the independent claim 11, the claim states "...said units being repeatedly and continuously arranged in the column direction..." The claim, as written, does NOT require that the units be contiguously arranged in the column direction WITH RESPECT TO EACH OTHER. It simply requires that the units be contiguously arranged in the column direction. While there is no question that the units are repeatedly arranged in the column direction, in the interpretation of the examiner, the units are contiguously arranged in that the first and second rows of each unit are contiguously arranged in the column direction. This constitutes a contiguous arrangement of the units in the column direction.
